PETITIONS CALLING FOR ROAD ELECTION BEING CIRCULATED

Two Hundred Fifty Signatures Necessary Before Commissioners' Court Puts Issue To Vote—Bond House Representative Thinks Paper Could Be Floated Readily—Frost For It.

Petitions calling for an election over the $600,000 road bond project in Wilbarger County are now being circulated by the commissioners' court, and the date for the election will probably be set by the end of this week. A copy of the petition was sent to the State Department at Austin in order that it might be thoroughly examined for any errors, and this was approved.

Two hundred fifty names will be necessary on the petition before the commissioners' court orders a special election. A petition will be furnished a resident in every community for circulation among his neighbors.

Following is a copy of the petition which will be circulated among county voters.

We, the undersigned resident property tax paying voters of Wilbarger County, Texas, respectfully pray this Honorable Court to call an election in said County to determine the following proposition:

Whether or not the bonds of said County shall be issued in the sum of $600,000.00 for the purpose of the purchase of district roads and the further construction, maintenance and operation of macadamized, graveled or paved roads and turnpikes, or in aid thereof, throughout said County, as follows:

(1) Bonds to be issued in the aggregate sum of $94,500.00 for the purpose of the purchase of district roads in said County, and which bonds shall have the same date of maturity and bear the same rate of interest as the bonds heretofore issued and now outstanding against Road District No. 1 of this County.

(2) Bonds to be issued in the aggregate sum of $505,500.00 for the further construction, maintenance and operation of macadamized, graveled or paved roads and turnpikes, or in aid thereof, throughout said County, and which bonds may run for a term not to exceed forty (40) years from their date and bear interest at the rate of five and one half per centum per annum.

We further pray your Honorable Court that at said election there shall also be submitted to the resident property taxpaying voters of the County the question as to whether or not a tax shall be levied upon the property of said County subject to taxation, for the purpose of paying the interest on said bonds and to provide a sinking fund for the redemption thereof at maturity.

Wants to Market Bonds.

W. A. Myrick, representative of a Dallas bond house, was in Vernon yesterday conferring with commissioners on the proposition of marketing the local bonds in the event they are voted. He is of the opinion that these could be sold between this time and the first of the year. His company successfully floated bonds for Wichita, Tarrant, and Johnson counties.

"This is a good county," Mr. Myrick said yesterday, "and it needs good roads. The project is to be voted upon here is not an unusual one by any means, and similar propositions are being carried out all over Texas. Palo Pinto, for instance, has voted a one million dollar proposition, and Clay county has a large one under consideration.

"Many of those over the State are considerably larger than the one proposed by Wilbarger as far as that is concerned."

Frost Favors Issue

T. C. Frost, who lives at Farmers Valley, is another resident tax payer who is desirous of seeing the bond issue carry. The highway does not come within seven miles of the property belonging to Mr. Frost, but he believes the expenditure of funds worth while in the light of the benefit it will prove to the county.

"I favor beginning near town," said Mr. Frost Monday, "because that is the logical place to start. Travel com-

Says Vernon is Best Town

Vernon is the best town in Texas according to J. H. Walsh. Mr. Walsh is a hat cleaner and has visited Brownwood, Ranger, and into North Texas, visiting Denison and Sherman. His trips also included Breckenridge, Cisco, Graham, and Sweetwater. It is Mr. Walsh's opinion that there is more business and more money in Vernon than in any of the towns he visited.

Seven County Schools Commence.

Seven Wilbarger county schools have commenced their sessions for this fall. They are Oklaunion, Harrold, Antelope, West Vernon, Bourland, Mack, and Elbert. Other schools will open at various intervals between this time and November. This matter is left to the trustees in the respective districts.

Bonham Editor Here.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Spots and Dr. and Mrs. G. Holburg of Bonham passed through Vernon Saturday en route from Colorado. Mr. Spots is the editor of the Bonham News and one of the best known newspaper men in Texas.

Almost One-Third Held.

One cotton buyer today estimated that thirty percent of the county crop is being held. The remaining farmers seem content to accept the present price, he said, and not rely on the hope that the market will ascend still higher.

WANT HARDING'S APPROVAL ON KNICKERS

Miss Jewel O'Malley and Miss Aileen Faye, two of a number of New York girls starting out from City Hall on a ten-day hike to Washington, where they will visit President Harding and ask for his approval of their knickerbocker attire. They are making the trip on a dare to prove the value of knickerbockers for the athletic girl.

TEACHERS VOTE TO RETURN TO WICHITA

EASY ACCESSIBILITY OF TOWN MAKES IT CHOICE FOR NEXT INSTITUTE.

Teacher attending the institute conducted last week at Wichita Falls voted to return to that city next year for a similar session. It was deemed that the city faith built offered easier access to the four counties represented than did any other community which bid for the convention.

Representatives from Vernon made every effort to bring the institute to this place next year. A telegram from the local Chamber of Commerce was read to those present, but the consensus of opinion was too strongly in favor of Wichita Falls.

Vernon Teachers Speak

Dr. H. W. Nutt of Chicago University was the principal speaker on the program. Vernon teachers were also represented in the addresses of the occasion.

Superintendent E. L. Dohoney spoke on "School Laws That All Teachers Should Know." Miss Dora Flack spoke on "High School Composition and Rhetoric." Geography in the Grades" was the subject of a talk by W. C. Roddy, Supt. T. E. Pierce of Odell spoke on "High School English Literature."

Miss Gertrude Jones of Vernon talked on "Science in the Grades." Miss Jessie Hickman on "Commercial Subjects in High School," Supt. R. S. Covey of Harrold on "High School Physical Geography," and Supt. W. M. Gourley of Oklaunion on "High School Agriculture."

Mrs. Rena Watts of this city addressed the institute in behalf of the W. C. T. U. on "Bible in the Public Schools."

Enjoy Fishing Excursion

T. J. Youngblood, Harry Colley, and B. Daniels went on a fishing excursion last week to Miller Creek, fifteen miles south of Seymour. The party remained three days and nights. Luck was about the average. Mr. Youngblood caught about a ten pound catfish on his hook, but as he lifting it from the water the line broke and the prize got away.

Mrs. A. O. Payne Improves

Mrs. A. O. Payne, who was operated upon last week, is doing well at this time. Mrs. Payne recently removed to Vernon with her family from Matador.

VERNON MARKET AVERAGES WITH OTHERS IN STATE

Report From Star-Telegram Disproves Oft-Heard Criticism That Local Prices Are Too Low—Crop Opens Rapidly and Pickers Are Plentiful—Many Hauling To Town.

That Vernon's cotton market is on a par with those of the other sections of Texas is evidenced from a glance at the reports which are in the columns of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. These prove conclusively the criticism offered frequently by many growers of this vicinity that Vernon prices do not compare favorably with there found elsewhere is unfounded.

Virginia Keefe in "PROXIES"

The thing deals with a reformed crook, who is determined to live straight and has a hard time realizing his desire. He manages to do so in spite of his many obstacles and finally wins out in his great struggle. The picture is not only entertaining but has an uplifting quality as well.

Wednesday, Eva Novak in "WOLVES of the North."

Aurora Thresh lives with her father who is a student of Eskimo history, on the edge of civilization in the depth of Alaska. Two men love her; one is David, father's ward, and the other is Wild Jack, a sturdy specimen of modern manhood. When the latter allows his mouth qualities to get the better of him on one occasion the girl announces her engagement to David. He, however, proves untrue to her, and she turns back to Wild Jack, realizing that he is of the sterling, albeit rugged character.

Thursday, Bert Lytell in "A Message from Mars."

This fantastic story concerns Horace Parker, who is so wrapped up in himself that he imagines no world revolves around him and he is a minor god. A series of lessons at the hands of a messenger from Mars, who is sent to haunt the most selfish man on Earth, perfects a regeneration in him and he rewins the love of the girl he has lost through his bigotry.

At The Pictorium

Today, James Oliver Curwood's "Kazon," featuring Jane Novak and the dog, Kazon.

"Kazon," like most of this writer's stories, deals with the far north, and also with the almost human dog from which the tale derives its name. The animal is left without a master, having belonged to a member of the Northwest Mounted Police who is killed. A girl is the first and only person, after the death of his owner, to show him kindness, and although he runs away and joins a wolf pack he answers her cry for help three different times when she is in great danger.

Wednesday, Elaine Hammerstein in "The Girl from Nowhere."

She makes a mistake in her judgment of a man and becomes implicated in appearance only in a notorious jewel robbery. She escapes and seeks shelter in a hunting lodge. When she is about to be evicted by the caretaker, she tells him she is the wife of the owner, who happens to appear at that moment. Seeing the predicament of the girl he corroborates her statement and proceeds immediately to fall in love with her.

Thursday, Neal Hart in "God's Gold."

Hart has the role of a sea captain. He learns that a quantity of gold has been hidden by a gang of mutineers on an uncharted island and sets out to find the treasure. How he saves the ship from destruction on the rocks, fights off a number of savages, locates the gold and then learns that God's will is his sweetheart, makes a thrilling and an appealing story.

FOOTBALL PLAYERS START PRACTICE

HIGH SCHOOL CANDIDATES HAVE BEEN WORKING OUT FOR PAST WEEK

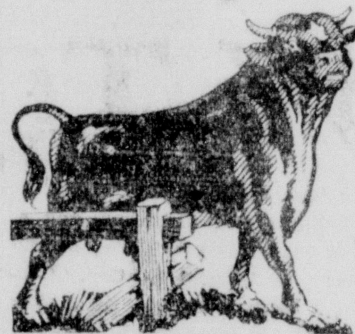

Vernon high school candidates are hard at work under their new coach, J. A. Morrow, preparing for the coming season's schedule. The players have been working out the past week, and Saturday were taken under the wing of the new mentor who previous to that time had been attending the teacher's institute at Wichita Falls.

Preliminary practice will consist for the most part of passing and kicking. Mr. Morrow said, "The fundamentals of the game will be gone over thoroughly and the coach will keep an eye open for the most likely material. There is a possibility that scrimmages will be engaged in by the end of the week. Plans of the boys for a camp last week went astray when it was learned that a sufficient number could not attend."

In Panhandle District

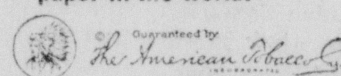

According to Mr. Morrow, Vernon had been put in the Panhandle district this year, and will have to play at least the first five games with towns west of here. No definite schedule has been arranged yet. It is likely that some of the games will be with Amarillo, Clarendon, Childress, Quanah. All of these towns were

EVERY CHILD SHOULD DRINK MILK THREE TIMES DAILY

How Lime and Vitamines in Milk Promote Growth and Bone Development in Children as Well as in Rats—Milk for Growing Children Rather Than Tea or Coffee.

"What a lot of milk you use!" exclaimed Mrs. Olds, watching the milkman place 4 quart bottles and a pint on her neighbor's porch step. "What on earth do you do with it all?"

Mrs. Newsom looked somewhat astonished. "Why," she replied, "we drink most of it, of course. A pint and a half a day or a glass each meal for each of the three children, the pint for grandmother, a glass or more each for Mr. Newsom and myself and the rest for breakfast cereals, coffee, and cooking. In fact, I often have to buy an extra bottle if I want to make a pudding. Tom, especially since he has been on the high-school athletic team, very often uses a glass or two more than I allow for him."

Some Children Do Not Like Milk.

"Goodness, my children wouldn't drink milk if I paid them. We only take 2 quarts a day, and hardly ever use all of that. My family's larger than yours, too," Mrs. Olds reflected. "Seven of the children at home, now that Maude is married. I often wish I could get Florence and Ida to take milk and eggs better. They're both thin and nervous and seem to get tired out so easily. But even Billy wants his coffee for breakfast and tea for dinner."

"You don't mean to say you give 4 year-old Billy tea and coffee?"

An illumination of many points about her neighbor's family came suddenly to Mrs. Newsom. She had always supposed the Olds children were delicate and obviously undernourished, because there were so many of them to bring up on a small salary. Apparently, however, there had been a very grave blunder in the diet of the whole family, one which could have been avoided even with their limited income, because milk is one of the cheapest sources of nourishment obtainable.

"I wish you might have been with me yesterday," remarked Mrs. Newsom. "I heard a talk about an exhibit prepared by some milk specialists in the Dairy Division of the United States Department of Agriculture. In fact, I brought home a picture which illustrated the lecture. I think it would interest you." She stepped inside the house for a moment, and then invited her neighbor to sit down while she explained.

"The exhibit was of some white rats, and showed the practical results of research work done by nutrition scientists. The lecturer explained that the condition of the rats illustrated the good effect of adding milk to an inadequate diet. The rats having milk, you see, grew large and muscular, with strong bones, bright eyes, and glossy hair. Those that did not have milk added to their diet had weak bones, because they lacked minerals, especially lime, which is so abundant in milk, and also milk proteins, which are unexcelled for making firm strong muscles. They also lacked vitamins, the important food accessories so essential to growth and health. Poor little things, they did not gain, but actually lost, while their comrades in the next cage thrived, and in six weeks had more than doubled their weight at the beginning of the demonstration.

"The lecturer explained that the exhibit was not an experiment, because the facts had already been proved by experimental evidence. It was merely a practical illustration.

"Of course," went on Mrs. Newsom. "we know perfectly well that a baby will double its weight in six months on milk alone, and really we should not be surprised that these half grown rats have done the same when they had all the milk they wished.

"The lecturer showed us the stuffed pelts, which were absolutely lifelike, and the mounted skeletons. The milk-fed rats had firm, well-formed bones, because they got plenty of lime, whereas the poor little undernourished ones had such frail skeletons that some of them had to be exhibited in bottles instead of being mounted.

Lack of Milk Causes Weak Bones.

Mrs. Olds looked very thoughtful. "I wonder," she said finally, "whether the small amount of milk the children have had would partly account for the easily broken bones in our family. Three of the children have had fractured arms or legs—and Ida's back seems so weak."

"It seems probable, though one can't say positively, of course, Mrs. Olds. The lecturer yesterday confirmed my belief that milk is better for the child's nervous system than tea and coffee, which, as you know, are not foods at all, and which contain elements that affect the nerves. It's a problem to break a long habit after a child once forms it, I know; that is why I have always avoided starting the tea and coffee habit."

"I believe," said Mrs. Olds, "that the two youngest children might listen to me if I could tell them the story of the rats—and perhaps show them the picture."

"I'll be so glad to lend it to you," smiled Mrs. Newsom.

MANUAL TRAINING ROOM READY New Quarters Have Been Constructed On High School Grounds and Will Be Well Equipped.

Manual training quarters for students in Vernon high school have been completed, and equipment is now being installed. The new building is constructed of boards, and is situated on the high school grounds immediately east of the main building.

Besides housing the manual training accommodations, the new building patronized by the boys of the school, athletic teams, and a place in which to keep the necessary tools.

Most of the equipment is here and is being rapidly installed by Instructor J. A. Morrow. There will be ten double benches which will accommodate twenty students. This branch of the curriculum is expected to be well patronized by the boys of the school. New tools have been ordered. Initial work will be with the plane, and the use of tools will gradually be acquired.

Any Girl Can Make This Dainty Summer Dress That Marion Davies Designed and Describes for Less Than $10

By MARION DAVIES
Film Star of "The Restless Sex," "Buried Treasure," etc.

This cool and dainty organdy dress was the first one I made for summer wear. It is every bit as easy to make as it looks and can be done in any color wished and in any kind of materials. I chose organdy because it is such a summery fabric and it seems to fit this style of dress. What I like about it is that it is as good for morning as for afternoon, for country or city, for home or office.

I chose a light yellow, trimming it with green hemstitching at the borders of the sleeves and overskirt. This sash of mine, with a smart bow at the back, is also green and the ribbon down the left side is of black lacquered. It is sure to be just as pretty in white, pink or blue.

Its touch of novelty and originality lies in the quilted effect produced when I gathered in the collar, blouse, sleeves and bottom of skirt.

Six yards of 40-inch material is ample if the pattern, enlarged sixteen times, is laid on the goods as in the diagram above. Outside of the hemstitching, which I didn't do all in one sitting, I planned and made this dress in two days.

If you have any difficulties in the making of this dress address me at Cosmopolitan Productions, 127th Street, New York City.

A HERO'S REWARD.

Perhaps the highest reward any
man can have is the knowledge of duty
nobly performed. If that be true,
surely then, Albert E. Robinson's re-
ward could not be higher.

Killed by an enemy bullet just as
his men had reached their objective
during the last terrible days of the Great War; falling face-forward with
his objective gained—surely no more
glorious consummation of life could be imagined!

All too short were his years on this earth. Yet the hundreds who stood
Sunday afternoon with bared heads before his bier is testimony that which
none can be more eloquent, of how
truly this young man continues to live
in the hearts of the men and women
of Vernon.

The story of his bravery, of his determination to serve his country will
be an inspiration to our children, and
our children's children. Truly Albert
E. Robinson's name is inscribed on the scanty roll of the immortals.

The Fort Worth City Commission is
asking local ice manufacturers why
the price of ice should be higher in Fort Worth than in many other Texas
cities. Some people in Vernon are wondering about the same thing.

"How nice it would be," observes
the Fort Worth Star Telegram, "if we
could build a battleship fast enough
that it would not be obsolete before
it is finished."

WHEAT COTTON PRICES MEAN.

The value of cotton on hand, the
new crop and seed of the new crop
has been increased by at least $750,000,
000 during the past thirty days, and
nearly half the money will come from outside the United States, says the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. Citing
the case of an individual farmer, the
Star-Telegram continues:

A month ago he figured he would
be lucky if he received $1,000 net for his cotton and seed. He owes his Bank $800, of which $300 has been carried since last year. He owes about $300 to merchants and has other obligations about due amounting to $300
or more. If he paid all these debts
out of $1,000 he would have $200 left
to face the winter on. And he was not certain that he would receive
$1,600 judging from the market a month ago. Now he practically certain to receive at least $3,000 for his
cotton and seed. He will be able to pay his debts and meet all his obligations, and have a balance left that
will at least not force him to go into
debt immediately again.

This may not be a typical case, but
if it is not it is because this farmer
owes a smaller proportion of his prospective income from his crop than
many others do. If the price of cotton
had not gone up there would have been
many of them who would have been
still hopelessly indebted after having

sold their cotton. A large number of these now are going to pay their debts
or a good portion of them.

Now see what that means: It
means, first of all, that a great deal
of frozen credit in the banks will be
thawed out. The little country bank
will be able to meet its obligations
with the city bank and with the Federal Reserve Bank, and as a result
there will be much easier money available in the district. That will effect everything. It means also that the farmer will pay the merchant and the
merchant will be in better shape to
meet his own obligations and to buy
more goods. The farmer will feel
more in the mood to buy the things he
needs. Even where he has not much
ready cash, he will have better credit.
This again will affect everybody.

That is why the rise in the price of
cotton means better times all around.
It even means a better demand for the
agricultural products, for wheat and
cattle and hogs and corn and sorghum
grains. Ultimately it will mean more employment, and that will tend to increase the purchasing power of the public and thus means more business.

A Woman's Back.

The Advice Of This Vernon Woman
is of Certain Value

Many a woman's back has many
aches and pains.

Often times 'tis the kidney's fault.
That's why Doan's Kidney Pills are
so effective.

Many Vernon women know this.
Read what one has to say about it:

Mrs. C. H. Dalmasso, 209 Lexington street, Vernon, says: "I suffered
greatly from kidney trouble and rheu-
matic pains. My back just throbbled
and ached all the time and was so
lame and sore mornings when I first
got up that I could hardly straighten.
The muscles in my back and hips were
lame and stiff. My kidneys acted irregularly and bothered me a great deal. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills and bought a supply from
the Ferguson Drug Store. I had relief from the start and a few boxes of
this medicine cured me of the attack.

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for kidney remedy—get
Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that

Galli-Curci Joins National Movement for Women Fostered By Fair Sex at Washington

PHOTOS © UNDERWOOD & UNDERWOOD

While the Woman's National Foundation aims primarily at the
correlation of all feminine activities
throughout America with a view to
promoting civic education, the arts
have not been neglected in its comprehensive program. Special committees under the direction of Washington women whose tastes and
training particularly fit them for the
task, have been appointed to care
for each branch. Mrs. Frederick Chapin is vice-chairman of the Committee, whose special duty is to foster
love of music.

In order that there might be with-
in the Foundation a group of members representing the highest standards in each profession, leading American artists have already been invited to join. Among the first to accept this invitation was Amelita
Galli-Curci, the great operatic soprano, who immediately sent her
check for a three-year term.

As a beautiful indoor theatre is included in the plans for the new
home which the Foundation is shortly to erect in Washington, members
will have the advantage of seeing
plays and operas produced under expert direction right in their clubhouse. There will also be an outdoor theatre in a sylvan dell on the Foundation grounds, where pageants
will be staged from time to time.
As Mrs. Marie Moore Forrest, the
well-known pageant writer, is a Founder-Donor of the Foundation,
while Mrs. C. C. Calhoun, President,
has already had many plays produced
in Washington theatres, the Foundation's program both in the dramatic
and musical fields shows every possibility of being highly successful.

Those interested in becoming members of the Foundation should communicate with the Woman's National Foundation, Connecticut Avenue, N.
W., Washington, D. C.

An important suit in the district court is scheduled to be heard tomorrow is that of Millers Fire Underwriters vs. the Fort Worth and Denver Railroad for $30,000. The underwriters are asking reimbursement for fire loss sustained in March, 1920 at Chillicothe when a gin burned. It is alleged by the insurance company that the town fire department was unable to reach the conflagration because of the refusal of a freight train crew to permit them to cross the railroad tracks which were blocked.

A Woman's Way.

"I tried for months to get my wife to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which I know had helped a friend of mine who also suffered from stomach trouble. She insisted her case was different. I finally had to bribe her with a new dress. The first dose produced remarkable results, clearing up her complexion and restoring appetite. She can now eat things she hadn't been able to eat for many years." It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money returned.

HEIRESS AND SCHOOL BOY ELOPE.

Mrs. Mrs. James Sinclair

Friends of Mrs. Bertha Samuels Sinclair are wondering whether she will win the forgiveness of her father, or whether Colonel Joseph Samuels will keep his threat to disinherit her. The millionaire made this threat when the bride indicated her intention of being married to James Sinclair, former Brown University athlete. The couple eloped a few days ago, being married at Mystic, Conn. It was late in the night when they reached Mystic. It was raining, and the engine in their motor had stalled. The circumstances were not at all romantic, though the heiress found a touch of romance in the fact that if her father held to his word she would have to be content with Sinclair's salary in lieu of her large allowance.

Managing a district court, calling the docket, quashing motions, and allowing recesses are only a few of the duties coming under the scope of a presiding judge, but J. A. Nabors, who enthroned in Wilbarger's court house today, finds not merely time for the pursuance of these arduous duties, but can occasionally cock his feet up on the desk and reminisce a trifle. His audience is composed of attorneys for and against, court officials of one category or another, and the usual category of hangers-on.

Judge Nabors earlier in life followed the art of a surveyor, and in this capacity traveled over a great extent of surrounding territory, and encountered many experiences.

"When there wasn't much doing," says the magistrate speculatively, "we used to camp out on the banks of a creek and just take life easy. We would have little jobs that would take out time for awhile, and then we would fish or hunt as we pleased.

"I had a system of fishing that simply beat them all, and it required no hooks or line. You see, I used to wear a large, baggy sort of shirt and in those days, to launder our clothes, we used to wade out into the water and splash around a bit. This shirt would fill up like a huge balloon as I squatted in the water, and the fish would swim up under it and I would suddenly gather up the folds of the shirt, walk to the bank, and spill a mess of fish out on the grass. It used to make the eyes of the old-timers who fished with hook and line stick out with envy.

Lost On Prairie

"In those days everyone's house belonged to everyone else. If you came upon a shelter anywhere you were supposed to enter and make yourself at home. One night a friend of mine and I got lost and finally stumbled upon a dugout on the prairie. A biting norther came up and we were chilled to the bone.

"My friend wouldn't go in, for some reason or another, but tried to keep warm against the wall of the dugout with a saddle blanket for a covering. I went in, however, and cooked myself a good supper, and went to bed. It was about three or four in the morning when I was awakened by singing, and arose to discover to whom the vocal efforts were due.

"I found that the owner of the dugout was returning home with a number of wild turkeys he had shot while hunting, and, seeing smoke issuing from his chimney, had begun singing as a means of striking up an acquaintance with the inmates of the house. We went out and brought in my friend who was stiff with cold, and cooked up in a fine mess of turkey for breakfast.

"You all remember Joe Schmidt who used to run the hotel in Vernon. Joe and I had a little trouble once over an agreement we had made. I paid him $25 a month for board and room, and was allowed credit of a dollar a day for each day I was absent.

"One month, I was gone thirty-one days, and so when I came back I claimed he owed me $3 and three meals and he wouldn't pay it.

"What's that? Ready in this case? All right, come to order please, gentlemen."

Building Good Will Through

Advertising

Constant Advertising Adds To Your Business That Intangible Though Substantial Asset of GOOD WILL

A very wise man said a good many years ago, "A good name is more to be desired than great riches." He spoke the truth—and we may well add that in these days when public confidence is so large an element in business that a good name is often a means toward acquiring great riches—legitimately, honestly, with profit for those with whom you do business as well as for yourself.

Your advertising alone will not build a good name and good will for you—but if you have the goods and the methods which back up your advertising, and bring satisfaction instead of disappointment to those who respond to your advertising, the good will of the public will certainly become yours.

Men who advertise extensively certain articles, patent the names of these articles, because they become nationally known, and, associated with the merits of the articles, they are of great value—made so by advertising backed up by satisfaction. Thus the advertising that has been done by these people becomes a real, permanent asset to their business—an asset which is often worth many thousands of dollars in the sale of a business.

If you run a dry goods store, for instance, you can by intelligent advertising and satisfactory merchandise and pleasing methods, so associate your name in the public mind with good dry goods, reasonable prices and pleasing methods that this reputation becomes an asset—a good will—which will bring you trade under conditions when stores which do not have this standing in the public favor will be without business. The same is true of any other line of business.

Groesbeck, Sept. 10.—Cotton sold as high as 20 cents per pound here today. Receipts are 25 bales. Cottonseed is selling for $31 per ton. It has rained for the past twenty-four hours.

Dublin, Sept. 10.—A report from the weigher at the cotton yards at 3:30 o'clock showed 50 bales received today. Price 20.50 to 21 cents. About 50 per cent selling. Cottonseed $25 per ton.

Pickers Are Plentiful

Cotton is rapidly opening in Wilbarger county fields. Pickers thus far have been plentiful, and many are daily coming through Vernon in covered wagons carrying all their worldly goods. Prices paid locally average one dollar a hundred pounds.

To date 1,575 bales have been unloaded at the public yard. Last Saturday marked a record in receipts, 277 bales being hauled to the congregating point at that time. Receipts for today are 150 bales.

At the warehouse too, cotton is coming in more rapidly. Thus far 265 bales have been stored there, and the amount coming in increases each day.

The Seven Largest Countries

"When China is moved it will change the face of the globe," Napoleon said that at St. Helena about a hundred years ago. China is a land of possibilities, undeveloped, but unbounded. She is a land of mighty reserve power, but this power, like that of her physical resources, her enormous supply of mineral resources has remained dormant. She is a sleeping but not a dead giant.

Russia is the largest country in the world, having an area of 8,417,111 square miles, but has a population of only 174,099,000. China next in size having an area of 3,913,560 square miles, with a population of 390,650,000. Brazil comes next with an area of 3,218,981 square miles, and a population of 17,318,586. Then come Canada, with an area of 3,603,910 square miles and a population of 7,206,643. Then the United States falls in line with an area of 3,026,789 square miles, and a population of 105,683,108. The Australia with an area of 2,974,581 square miles and a population of 4,445,000. Then comes British India with an area of 1,802,629 square miles, and a population of 315,156,396.

These are the seven largest countries in the world, named in order of their territory, but China has the greatest population of any country in the world, and British India is next in size, but each of them is more than twice the size of any country in the world except Russia. China has 390,650,000 population, and India has 315,156,396 population.

DEPUTY GAME WARDEN HERE

James D. Breedlove Points Out Some Little Recognized Facts About Hunting.

"A great many people are of the opinion that they can hunt in the country in which they reside and also in adjacent counties. This is a mistake," says James D. Breedlove, deputy state game warden, who was in Vernon today.

Mr. Breedlove calls attention to the fact that any person may hunt in the county or residence, but a license must be taken out to hunt anywhere except in one's home county. This license costs $2, and entitles the holder to hunt anywhere in Texas.

"There is a good crop of birds, quite a few plover, and some ducks coming into North Texas," Mr. Breedlove told a reporter. The season for ducks and plover opens October 16 and closes January 31. The dove season opened September 1 and runs to December 15.

The open season on turkeys has been changed from March and April to November and December in a number of counties in South-west Texas. In North Texas it is still March and April. A closed season of five years was passed by the 37th Legislature on turkeys in Kleburg, Starr, Jim Hogg, Cameron, Kenedy, Willacy, Hidalgo, and McMullen counties. It is unlawful to kill turkey hens at any time.

SUES COUNTY FOR DAMAGE RESULTING FROM HIGHWAY

The case of D. Z. Shepperd vs. Wilbarger county has been occupying the attention of the district court yesterday and today, and is being hotly contested. Contention is over the putting of a right of way through property owned by the plaintiff, and the matter has been in the courts since 1917.

The highways in question are the road running just south of the Denver tracks, and one upon which pavement was recently laid east of town.

PETITIONS CALLING FOR ROAD ELECTION BEING CIRCULATED

Two Hundred Fifty Signatures Necessary Before Commissioners' Court Puts Issue To Vote—Bond House Representative Thinks Paper Could Be Floated Readily—Frost For It.

Petitions calling for an election over the $600,000 road bond project in Wilbarger County are now being circulated by the commissioners' court, and the date for the election will probably be set by the end of this week. A copy of the petition was sent to the State Department at Austin in order that it might be thoroughly examined for any errors, and this was approved.

Two hundred fifty names will be necessary on the petition before the commissioners' court orders a special election. A petition will be furnished a resident in every community for circulation among his neighbors.

Following is a copy of the petition which will be circulated among county voters.

We, the undersigned resident property tax paying voters of Wilbarger County, Texas, respectfully pray this Honorable Court to call an election in said County to determine the following proposition:

Whether or not the bonds of said County shall be issued in the sum of $600,000.00 for the purpose of the purchase of district roads and the further construction, maintenance and operation of macadamized, graveled or paved roads and turnpikes, or in aid thereof, throughout said County, as follows:

(1) Bonds to be issued in the aggregate sum of $24,500.00 for the purpose of the purchase of district roads in said County, and which bonds shall have the same dates of maturity and bear the same rate of interest as the bonds heretofore issued and now outstanding against Road District No. 1 of this County.

(2) Bonds to be issued in the aggregate sum of $505,500.00 for the further construction, maintenance and operation of macadamized, graveled or paved roads and turnpikes, or in aid thereof, throughout said County, and which bonds may run for a term not to exceed forty (40) years from their date and bear interest at the rate of five and one half per centum per annum.

We further pray your Honorable Court that at said election there shall also be submitted to the resident property taxpaying voters of the County the question as to whether or not a tax shall be levied upon the property of said County subject to taxation, for the purpose of paying the interest on said bonds and to provide a sinking fund for the redemption thereof at maturity.

Wants to Market Bonds.

W. A. Myrick, representative of a Dallas bond house, was in Vernon yesterday conferring with commissioners on the proposition of marketing the local bonds in the event they are voted. He is of the opinion that these could be sold between this time and the first of the year. His company successfully floated bonds for Wichita, Tarrant, and Johnson counties.

"This is a good county," Mr. Myrick said yesterday, "and it needs good roads. The project is to be voted upon here is not an unusual one by any means, and similar propositions are being carried out all over Texas. Palo Pinto, for instance, has voted a one million dollar proposition, and Clay county has a large one under consideration."

"Many of those over the State are considerably larger than the one proposed by Wilbarger as far as this is concerned."

Frost Favors Issue

T. C. Frost, who lives at Farmers Valley, is another resident tax payer who is desirous of seeing the bond issue carry. The highway does not come within seven miles of the property belonging to Mr. Frost, but he believes the expenditure of funds worth while in the light of the benefit it will prove to the county.

"I favor beginning near town," said Mr. Frost Monday, "because that is the logical place to start. Travel com-

Albert Gardner and Miss Winnie Peck of Enid, Okla., were married Sunday morning at ten o'clock in the office of T. J. Griffin, justice of the peace.

MORE THAN 2,000 AT HERO'S FUNERAL

FINAL RITES OVER ROBINSON WITNESSED BY THROGS OF FRIENDS

More than 2,000 persons attended the funeral Sunday of Albert E. Robinson, Vernon's war hero, at the services conducted at the Baptist tabernacle and Eastview cemetery. The large church and shelter was filled to overflowing, and many of those in attendance stood on the outside.

Rev. E. L. Moore presided the funeral sermon, and paid many touching tributes to the lad who went to great lengths to serve his country. Mr. Moore likened young Robinson to the heroes of '76 who shed their blood at Lexington to defend their country's sacred honor.

Wire From Baker

The following telegram was received Sunday by the local post of the American Legion from Harry A. Baker, captain of the Vernon company. It read as follows:

"Am deeply affected by your telegram of ninth. Albert E. Robinson was my closest friend. To him is due the credit for raising Company E. No nobler man or better soldier ever served his country. I join in your sorrow."

Flag Given to Father

Following the services at the tabernacle, the body, in a flag draped casket was taken to the cemetery under the escort of members of the American Legion, National guard members standing at the entrance of Eastview counted 2,386 persons in 436 cars entering the grounds.

At the grave the firing squad presented arms while the casket was placed upon the supports to lower it into its final resting place. The squad then came to parade rest and the pall bearers came to attention while the flag was taken from the casket, folded, and given to A. J. Robinson, father of the dead soldier, with a few words of presentation.

Mr. More then gave a short talk, and Post Chaplain Gus Kammage delivered the regulation farewell of a military funeral and followed this with a prayer. Three volleys were then fired over the grave by the ex-soldiers.

Informal Dance At Fadd Home

A group of young people enjoyed an informal dance Saturday night at the home of Misses Beulah and Maudie Ladd on E. Wilbarger street. An Oklahoma orchestra, the same that played the preceding night at the Elks' dance, furnished the music for the occasion.

Says Vernon is Best Town

Vernon is the best town in Texas according to J. H. Walsh. Mr. Walsh is a hat cleaner and has visited Brownwood, Ranger, and into North Texas. His visiting Denison and Sherman. His trips also included Breckenridge, Cisco, Graham, and Sweetwater. It is Mr. Walsh's opinion that there is more business and more money in Vernon than in any of the towns he visited.

Seven County Schools Commence.

TEACHERS VOTE TO RETURN TO WICHITA

EASY ACCESSIBILITY OF TOWN MAKES IT CHOICE FOR NEXT INSTITUTE.

Teacher attending the institute conducted last week at Wichita Falls voted to return to that city next year for a similar session. It was deemed that the city faith built offered easier access to the four counties represented than did any other community which bid for the convention.

Representatives from Vernon made every effort to bring the institute to this place next year. A telegram from the local Chamber of Commerce was read to those present, but the consensus of opinion was too strongly in favor of Wichita Falls.

Vernon Teachers Speak

Dr. H. W. Nutt of Chicago University was the principal speaker on the program. Vernon teachers were also represented in the addresses of the occasion.

Superintendent E. L. Dohoney spoke on "Schol Laws That All Teachers Should Know." Miss Dora Flack spoke on "High School Composition and Rhetoric." Geography in the Grades" was the subject of a talk by W. C. Roddy, Supt. T. E. Pierce of Odell spoke on "High School English Literature."

Miss Gertrude Jones of Vernon talked on "Science in the Grades." Miss Jessie Hickman on "Commercial Subjects in High School." Supt. R. S. Covey of Harrold on "High School Physical Geography," and Supt. W. M. Gourley of Oklaunion on "High School Agriculture."

Mrs. Rena Watts of this city addressed the institute in behalf of the W. C. T. U. on "Bible in the Public Schools."

Enjoy Fishing Excursion

T. J. Youngblood, Harry Colley, and R. Daniels went on a fishing excursion last week to Miller Creek, fifteen miles south of Seymour. The party remained three days and nights. Luck was about the average. Mr. Youngblood caught about a ten pound catfish on his hook, but as he lifting it from the water the line broke and the prize got away.

VERNON MARKET AVERAGES WITH OTHERS IN STATE

Report From Star-Telegram Disproves Off-Heard Criticism That Local Prices Are Too Low—Crop Opens Rapidly and Pickers Are Plentiful—Many Hauling To Town.

That Vernon's cotton market is on a par with those of the other sections of Texas is evidenced from a glance at the reports which are in the columns of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. These prove conclusively the criticism offered frequently by many growers of this vicinity that Vernon prices do not compare favorably with there found elsewhere is unfounded.

The thing deals with a reformed

crook, who is determined to live

straight and has a hard time realizing his desire. He manages to do so in spite of his many obstacles and finally wins out in his great struggle. The picture is not only entertaining but has an uplifting quality as well.

Aurora Thresh lives with her father who is a student of Eskimo history, on the edge of civilization in the depths of Alaska. Two men love her, one is David, father's ward, and the other is

Wicki Jack, a sturdy specimen of northern manhood. When the latter allows his uncouth qualities to get the better

of him on one occasion the girl announces her engagement to David. He however, proves untrue to her, and she turns back to Wicki Jack, realizing that he is of the sterling, albeit rugged character.

Thursday, Bert Lytell in "A Message from Mars."

This fantastic story concerns Horace Parker, who is so wrapped up in himself that he imagines no world revolves around him and he is a minor

god. A series of lessons at the hand of a messenger from Mars, who is sent to haunt the most selfish man on

and he rewins the love of the girl he has lost through his bigotry.

"Kazon," featuring Jane Novak and the dog, Kazon."Kazon," like most of this writer's stories, deals with the far north, and also with the almost human dog from which the tale derives its name. The animal is left without a master, having belonged to a member of the Northwest Mounted Police who is killed. A girl is the first and only person, after the death of his owner, to show him
kindness, and although he runs away

cry for help three different times

in appearance only in a notorious

the girl he corroborates her statement

to that time had been attending the

of the game will be gone over thor-

There is a possibility that scrimmage
will be engaged in by the end of the learned that a sufficient number could not attend.In Panhandle DistrictAccording to Mr. Morrow, Vernon had been put in the Panhandle dis-

EVERY CHILD SHOULD DRINK MILK THREE TIMES DAILY

How Lime and Vitamines in Milk Promote Growth and Bone Development in Children as Well as in Rats—Milk for Growing Children Rather Than Tea or Coffee.

"What a lot of milk you use!" exclaimed Mrs. Olds, watching the milkman place 4 quart bottles and a pint on her neighbor's porch step. "What on earth do you do with it all?"

Mrs. Newsom looked somewhat astonished. "Why," she replied, "we drink most of it, of course. A pint and a half a day or a glass each meal for each of the three children, the pint for grandmother, a glass or more each for Mr. Newsom and myself and the rest for breakfast cereals, coffee, and cooking. In fact, I often have to buy an extra bottle if I want to make a pudding. Tom, especially since he has been on the high-school athletic team, very often uses a glass or two more than I allow for him."

Some Children Do Not Like Milk.

"Goodness, my children wouldn't drink milk if I paid them. We only take 2 quarts a day, and hardly ever use all of that. My family's larger than yours, too," Mrs. Olds reflected. "Seven of the children at home, now that Maude is married. I often wish I could get Florence and Ida to take milk and eggs better. They're both thin and nervous and seem to get tired out so easily. But even Billy wants his coffee for breakfast and tea for dinner."

"You don't mean to say you give 4 year-old Billy tea and coffee?"

An illumination of many points about her neighbor's family came suddenly to Mrs. Newsom. She had always supposed the Olds children were delicate and obviously undernourished, because there were so many of them to bring up on a small salary. Apparently, however, there had been a very grave blunder in the diet of the whole family, one which could have been avoided even with their limited income, because milk is one of the cheapest sources of nourishment obtainable.

"I wish you might have been with me yesterday," remarked Mrs. Newsom. "I heard a talk about an exhibit prepared by some milk specialists in the Dairy Division of the United States Department of Agriculture. In fact, I brought home a picture which illustrated the lecture. I think it would interest you." She stepped inside the house for a moment, and then invited her neighbor to sit down while she explained.

"The exhibit was of some white rats, and showed the practical results of research work done by nutrition scientists. The lecturer explained that the condition of the rats illustrated the good effect of adding milk to an inadequate diet. The rats having milk, you see, grew large and muscular, with strong bones, bright eyes, and glossy hair. Those that did not have milk added to their diet had weak bones, because they lacked minerals, especially lime, which is so abundant in milk, and also milk proteins, which are unexcelled for making firm strong muscles. They also lacked vitamins, the important food accessories so essential to growth and health. Poor little things, they did not gain, but actually lost, while their comrades in the next cage thrived, and in six weeks had more than doubled their weight at the beginning of the demonstration.

"The lecturer explained that the exhibit was not an experiment, because the facts had already been proved by experimental evidence. It was merely a practical illustration.

"Of course," went on Mrs. Newsom, "we know perfectly well that a baby will double its weight in six months on milk alone, and really we should not be surprised that these half grown rats have done the same when they had all the milk they wished.

"The lecturer showed us the stuffed pelts, which were absolutely lifelike and the mounted skeletons. The milk-fed rats had firm, well-formed bones, because they got plenty of lime, whereas the poor little undernourished ones had such frail skeletons that some of them had to be exhibited in bottles instead of being mounted.

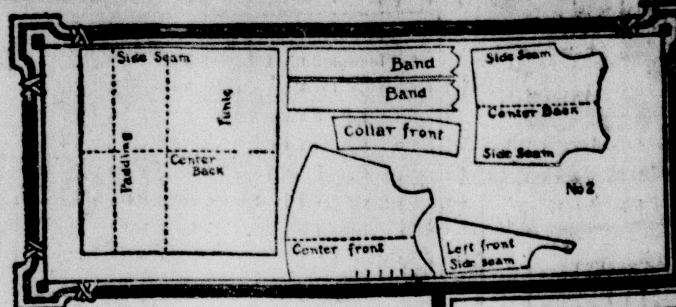

Lack of Milk Causes Weak Bones.

Mrs. Olds looked very thoughtful. "I wonder," she said finally, "whether the small amount of milk the children have had would partly account for the easily broken bones in our family. Three of the children have had fractured arms or legs—and Ida's back seems so weak."

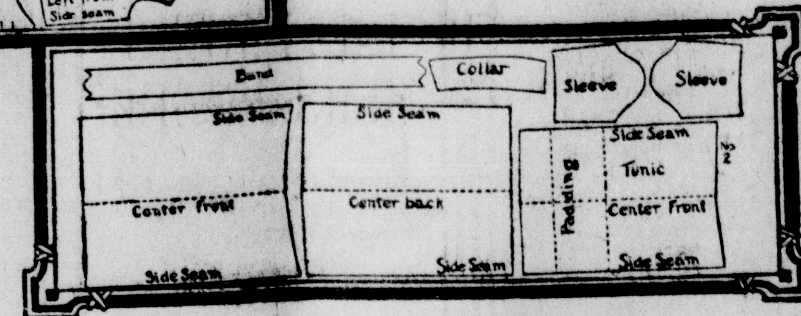

"It seems probable, though one can't say positively, of course, Mrs. Olds. The lecturer yesterday confirmed my belief that milk is better for the child's nervous system than tea and coffee, which, as you know, are not foods at all, and which contain elements that affect the nerves. It's a problem to break a food habit after a child once forms it, I know; that is why I have always avoided starting the tea and coffee habit."

"I believe," said Mrs. Olds, "that the two youngest children might listen to me if I could tell them the story of the rats—and perhaps show them the picture."

"I'll be so glad to lend it to you," smiled Mrs. Newsom.

Any Girl Can Make This Dainty Summer Dress That Marion Davies Designed and Describes for Less Than $10

By MARION DAVIES

Film Star of "The Restless Sex," "Buried Treasure," etc.

This cool and dainty organdy dress was the first one I made for summer wear. It is every bit as easy to make as it looks and can be done in any color wished and in any kind of materials. I chose organdy because it is such a summery fabric and it seems to fit this style of dress. What I like about it is that it is as good for morning as for afternoon, for country or city, for home or office.

I chose a light yellow, trimming it with green hemstitching at the borders of the sleeves and overskirt. This sash of mine, with a smart bow at the back, is also green and the ribbon down the left side is of black lacquered. It is sure to be just as pretty in white, pink or blue.

Its touch of novelty and originality lies in the quilted effect produced when I gathered in the collar, blouse, sleeves and bottom of skirt.

Six yards of 40-inch material is ample if the pattern, enlarged sixteen times, is laid on the goods as in the diagram above. Outside of the hemstitching, which I didn't do all in one sitting, I planned and made this dress in two days.

If you have any difficulties in the making of this dress address me at Cosmopolitan Productions, 127th Street, New York City.

A HERO'S REWARD.

Perhaps the highest reward any
 man can have is the knowledge of duty
 nobly performed. If that be true,
 surely then, Albert E. Robinson's re-
 ward could not be higher.

Killed by an enemy bullet just as
 his men had reached their objective
 during the last terrible days of the Great War; falling face-forward with
 his objective gained—surely no more
 glorious consummation of life could be
 imagined!

All too short were his years on this
 earth. Yet the hundreds who stood
 Sunday afternoon with bared heads before his bier is testimony that which
 none can be more eloquent, of how
 truly this young man continues to live
 in the hearts of the men and women
 of Vernon.

The story of his bravery, of his determination to serve his country will
 be an inspiration to our children, and
 our children's children. Truly Albert
 E. Robinson's name is inscribed on the
 scanty roll of the immortals.

The Fort Worth City Commission is
 asking local ice manufacturers why
 the price of ice should be higher in
 Fort Worth than in many other Texas
 cities. Some people in Vernon are
 wondering about the same thing.

"How nice it would be," observes
 the Fort Worth Star Telegram, "if we
 could build a battleship fast enough
 that it would not be obsolete before
 it is finished."

WHAT COTTON PRICES MEAN.

The value of cotton on hand, the
 new crop and seed of the new crop
 has been increased by at least $750,000,
 000 during the past thirty days, and
 nearly half the money will come from
 outside the United States, says the
 Fort Worth Star-Telegram. Citing
 the case of an individual farmer, the
 Star-Telegram continues:

A month ago he figured he would
 be lucky if he received $1,000 net for
 his cotton and seed. He owes his
 Bank $800, of which $300 has been carried since last year. He owes about $300 to merchants and has other obligations about due amounting to $300
 or more. If he paid all these debts
 out of $1,000 he would have $200 left
 to face the winter on. And he was
 not certain that he would receive
 $1,600 judging from the market a
 month ago. Now he practically certain to receive at least $3,000 for his
 cotton and seed. He will be able to pay his debts and meet all his obligations, and have a balance left that
 will at least not force him to go into
 debt immediately again.

This may not be a typical case, but
 if it is not it is because this farmer
 owes a smaller proportion of his prospective income from his crop than
 many others do. If the price of cotton
 had not gone up there would have been
 many of them who would have been
 still hopelessly indebted after having

sold their cotton. A large number of
 these now are going to pay their debts
 or a good portion of them.

Now see what that means: It
 means, first of all, that a great deal
 of frozen credit in the banks will be
 thawed out. The little country bank
 will be able to meet its obligations
 with the city bank and with the Federal Reserve Bank, and as a result
 there will be much easier money available in the district. That will effect
 everything. It means also that the
 farmer will pay the merchant and the
 merchant will be in better shape to
 meet his own obligations and to buy
 more goods. The farmer will feel
 more in the mood to buy the things he
 needs. Even where he has not much
 ready cash, he will have better credit.
 This again will affect everybody.

That is why the rise in the price of
 cotton means better times all around.
 It even means a better demand for the
 agricultural products, for wheat and
 cattle and hogs and corn and sorghum
 grains. Ultimately it will mean more
 employment, and that will tend to increase the purchasing power of the
 public and thus means more business.

A Woman's Back.

The Advice Of This Vernon Woman
 is of Certain Value

Many a woman's back has many
 aches and pains.

Often 'tis the kidney's fault.
 That's why Doan's Kidney Pills are
 so effective.

Many Vernon women know this.
 Read what one has to say about it:

Mrs. C. H. Delmasse, 209 Lexing-
 ton street, Vernon, says: "I suffered
 greatly from kidney trouble and rheu-
 matic pains. My back just throbbled
 and ached all the time and was so
 lame and sore mornings when I first
 got up that I could hardly straighten.
 The muscles in my back and hips were
 lame and stiff. My kidneys acted ir-
 regularly and bothered me a great
 deal. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills and bought a supply from
 the Ferguson Drug Store. I had relief from the start and a few boxes of
 this medicine cured me of the attack.
 Price 60c at all dealers. Don't
 simply ask for kidney remedy—get
 Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that

Galli-Curci Joins National Movement for Women Fostered
By Fair Sex at Washington

While the Woman's National Foundation aims primarily at the
 correlation of all feminine activities
 throughout America with a view to
 promoting civic education, the arts
 have not been neglected in its comprehensive program. Special committees under the direction of Washington women whose tastes and
 training particularly fit them for the
 task, have been appointed to care
 for each branch. Mrs. Frederick Chapin is vice-chairman of the Committee, whose special duty is to foster
 love of music.

In order that there might be with-
 in the Foundation a group of members representing the highest standards in each profession, leading American artists have already been invited to join. Among the first to accept this invitation was Amelita
 Galli-Curci, the great operatic so-
 prano, who immediately sent her
 check for a three-year term.

As a beautiful indoor theatre is
 included in the plans for the new
 home which the Foundation is shortly to erect in Washington, members
 will have the advantage of seeing
 plays and operas produced under expert direction right in their club-
 house. There will also be an outdoor theatre in a sylvan dell on the Foundation grounds, where pageants
 will be staged from time to time.
 As Mrs. Marie Moore Forrest, the
 well-known pageant writer, is a Founder-Donor of the Foundation,
 while Mrs. C. C. Calhoun, President,
 has already had many plays produced
 in Washington theatres, the Founda-
 tion's program both in the dramatic
 and musical fields shows every possibility of being highly successful.

Those interested in becoming members of the Foundation should communicate with the Woman's National Foundation, Connecticut Avenue, N.
 W., Washington, D. C.

The underwriters are asking reimbursement for fire loss sustained in March, 1920 at Chillicothe when a gin burned. It is alleged by the insurance company that the town fire department was unable to reach the conflagration because of the refusal of a freight train crew to permit them to cross the railroad tracks which were blocked.

A Woman's Way.

"I tried for months to get my wife to try Mayer's Wonderful Remedy, which I know had helped a friend of mine who also suffered from stomach trouble. She insisted her case was different. I finally had to bribe her with a new dress. The first dose produced remarkable results, clearing up her complexion and restoring appetite. She can now eat things she hadn't been able to eat for many years." It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money returned.

HEIRESS AND SCHOOL BOY ELOPE.

Friends of Mrs. Bertha Samuels Sinclair are wondering whether she will win the forgiveness of her father, or whether Colonel Joseph Samuels will keep his threat to disinherit her. The millionaire made this threat when the bride indicated her intention of being married to James Sinclair, former Brown University athlete. The couple eloped a few days ago, being married at Mystic, Conn. It was late in the night when they reached Mystic. It was raining, and the engine in their motor had stalled. The circumstances were not at all romantic, though the heiress found a touch of romance in the fact that if her father held to his word she would have to be content with Sinclair's salary in lieu of her large allowance.

RED RACING CAR NO MATCH FOR SHERIFF'S FORD

Oscar Meyers, driving a red racing car, was taken Sunday by Sheriff W. A. Ish at Quanah. Mr. Ish had been notified from Trenton Saturday that a man answering Meyers description had taken a red racing car from that place.

While conversing with a friend in Chillicothe Sunday, Mr. Ish saw the car pass and immediately pursued it. He overtook it and after reaching Quanah waited for his man. Meyers claimed he had bought the car but was put in jail at Quanah pending word from Trenton authorities.

Managing a district court, calling the docket, quashing motions, and allowing recesses are only a few of the duties coming under the scope of a presiding judge, but J. A. Nabors, who enthroned in Wilbarger's court house today, finds not merely time for the pursuance of these arduous duties, but can occasionally cock his feet up on the desk and reminisce a trifle. His audience is composed of attorneys for and against, court officials of one description or another, and the usual category of hangers-on.

Judge Nabors earlier in life followed the art of a surveyor, and in this capacity traveled over a great extent of surrounding territory, and encountered many experiences.

"When there wasn't much doing," says the magistrate speculatively, "we used to camp out on the banks of a creek and just take life easy. We would have little jobs that would take our time for awhile, and then we could fish or hunt as we pleased."

"I had a system of fishing that simply beat them all, and it required no hooks or line. You see, I used to wear a large, baggy sort of shirt and in those days, to launder our clothes, we used to wade out into the water and splash around a bit. This shirt would fill up like a huge balloon as I squatted in the water, and the fish would swim up under it and I would suddenly gather up the folds of the shirt, walk to the bank, and spill a mess of fish out on the grass. It used to make the eyes of the old-timers who fished with hook and line stick out with envy."

Lost On Prairie

"In those days everyone's house be-

longed to everyone else. If you came upon a shelter anywhere you were privileged to enter and make yourself at home. One night a friend of mine and I got lost and finally stumbled upon a dugout on the prairie. A sitting nortther came up and we were chilled to the bone.

"My friend wouldn't go in, for some reason or another, but tried to keep warm against the wall of the dugout with a saddle blanket for a covering. I went in, however, and cooked myself a good supper and went to bed. It was about three or four in the morning when I was awakened by singing, and arose to discover to whom the vocal efforts were due.

"I found that the owner of the dugout was returning home with a number of wild turkeys he had shot while hunting, and, seeing smoke issuing from his chimney, had begun singing as a means of striking up an acquaintance with the inmates of the house. We went out and brought in my friend who was stiff with cold, and cooked up in a fine mess of turkey for breakfast.

"You all remember Joe Schmidt who used to run the hotel in Vernon. Joe and I had a little trouble once over an agreement we had made. I paid him $25 a month for board and room, and was allowed credit of a dollar a day for each day I was absent.

"One month, I was gone thirty-one days, and so when I came back I claimed he owed me $3 and three meals and he wouldn't pay it.

"What, that? Ready in this case? All right, come to order please, gentlemen."

Building Good Will Through
Advertising

Constant Advertising Adds To Your Business
That Intangible Though Substantial
Asset of GOOD WILL

A very wise man said a good many years ago, "A good name is more to be desired than great riches." He spoke the truth—and we may well add that in these days when public confidence is so large an element in business that a good name is often a means toward acquiring great riches—legitimately, honestly, with profit for those with whom you do business as well as for yourself.

Your advertising alone will not build a good name and good will for you—but if you have the goods and the methods which back up your advertising, and bring satisfaction instead of disappointment to those who respond to your advertising, the good will of the public will certainly become yours.

Men who advertise extensively certain articles, patent the names of these articles, because they become nationally known, and, associated with the merits of the articles, they are of great value—made so by advertising backed up by satisfaction. Thus the advertising that has been done by these people becomes a real, permanent asset to their business—an asset which is often worth many thousands of dollars in the sale of a business.

If you run a dry goods store, for instance, you can by intelligent advertising and satisfactory merchandise and pleasing methods, so associate your name in the public mind with good dry goods, reasonable prices and pleasing methods that this reputation becomes an asset—good will—which will bring you trade under conditions when stores which do not have this standing in the public favor will be without business. The same is true of any other line of business.

VERNON MARKET AVERAGE WITH OTHERS IN STATE

putting ground in fine shape for fall gardens and wheat and oat crops.

Groesbeck, Sept. 10.—Cotton sold as high as 20 cents per pound here today. Receipts are 25 bales. Cottonseed is selling for $31 per ton. It has rained for the past twenty-four hours.

Dublin, Sept. 10.—A report from the weigher at the cotton yards at 3:30 o'clock showed 50 bales received today. Price 20.50 to 21 cents. About 50 per cent selling. Cottonseed $25. per ton.

Pickers Are Plentiful

Cotton is rapidly opening in Willbarger county fields. Pickers thus far have been plentiful, and many are daily coming through Vernon in covered wagons carrying all their worldly goods. Prices paid locally average one dollar a hundred pounds.

To date 1,575 bales have been unloaded at the public yard. Last Saturday marked a record in receipts, 277 bales being hauled to the congregating point at that time. Receipts for today are 150 bales.

At the warehouse too, cotton is coming in more rapidly. Thus far 265 bales have been stored there, and the amount coming in increases each day.

The Seven Largest Countries

"When China is moved it will change the face of the globe," Napoleon said that at St. Helena about a hundred years ago. China is a land of possibilities, undeveloped, but unbounded. She is a land of mighty reserve power, but this power, like that of her physical resources, her enormous supply of mineral resources has remained dormant. She is a sleeping but not a dead giant.

Russia is the largest country in the world, having an area of 8,417,111 square miles, but has a population of only 174,099,000. China next in size having an area of 3,913,560 square miles, with a population of 399,650,000. Brazil comes next with an area of 3,218,991 square miles, and a population of 17,318,586. Then come Canada, with an area of 3,693,910 square miles and a population of 7,206,643. Then the United States falls in line with an area of 3,026,789 square miles and a population of 105,683,108. The Australia with an area of 2,974,581 square miles and a population of 4,445,000. Then comes British India with an area of 1,802,629 square miles and a population of 315,156,396.

These are the seven largest countries in the world, named in order of their territory, but China has the greatest population of any country in the world, and British India is next in size, but each of them is more than twice the size of any country in the world except Russia. China has 399,650,000 population, and India has 315,156,396 population.

DEPUTY GAME WARDEN HERE

James D. Breedlove Points Out Some Little Recognized Facts About Hunting.

"A great many people are of the opinion that they can hunt in the country in which they reside and also in adjacent counties. This is a mistake," says James D. Breedlove, deputy state game warden, who was in Vernon today.

Mr. Breedlove calls attention to the fact that any person may hunt in the county or residence, but a license must be taken out to hunt anywhere except in one's home county. This license costs $2, and entitles the holder to hunt anywhere in Texas.

"There is a good crop of birds, quite a few plover, and some ducks coming into North Texas," Mr. Breedlove told a reporter. The season for ducks and plover opens October 16 and closes January 31. The dove season opened September 1 and runs to December 15.

The open season on turkeys has been changed from March and April to November and December in a number of counties in South-west Texas. In North Texas it is still March and April. A closed season of five years was passed by the 37th Legislature on turkeys in Kleburg, Starr, Jim Hogg, Cameron, Kenedy, Willacy, Hidalgo, and McMullen counties. It is unlawful to kill turkey hens at any time.

SUES COUNTY FOR DAMAGE RESULTING FROM HIGHWAY

The case of D. Z. Sheppard vs. Willbarger county has been occupying the attention of the district court yesterday and today, and is being hotly contested. Contention is over the putting of a right of way through property owned by the plaintiff, and the matter has been in the courts since 1917.

The highways in question are the road running just south of the Denver tracks, and one upon which pavement was recently laid east of town.

PETITIONS CALLING FOR ROAD ELECTION BEING CIRCULATED

Two Hundred Fifty Signatures Necessary Before Commissioners' Court Puts Issue To Vote—Bond House Representative Thinks Paper Could Be Floated Readily—Frost For It.

Petitions calling for an election over the $600,000 road bond project in Wilbarger County are now being circulated by the commissioners' court, and the date for the election will probably be set by the end of this week. A copy of the petition was sent to the State Department at Austin in order that it might be thoroughly examined for any errors, and this was approved.

Two hundred fifty names will be necessary on the petition before the commissioners' court orders a special election. A petition will be furnished a resident in every community for circulation among his neighbors.

Following is a copy of the petition which will be circulated among county voters.

We, the undersigned resident property tax paying voters of Wilbarger County, Texas, respectfully pray this Honorable Court to call an election in said County to determine the following proposition:

Whether or not the bonds of said County shall be issued in the sum of $600,000.00 for the purpose of the purchase of district roads and the further construction, maintenance and operation of macadamized, graveled or paved roads and turnpikes, or in aid thereof, throughout said County, as follows:

(1) Bonds to be issued in the aggregate sum of $24,500.00 for the purpose of the purchase of district roads in said County, and which bonds shall have the same dates of maturity and bear the same rate of interest as the bonds heretofore issued and now outstanding against Road District No. 1 of this County.

(2) Bonds to be issued in the aggregate sum of $305,500.00 for the further construction, maintenance and operation of macadamized, graveled or paved roads and turnpikes, or in aid thereof, throughout said County, and which bonds may run for a term not to exceed forty (40) years from their date and bear interest at the rate of five and one half per centum per annum.

We further pray that Honorable Court that said election there shall also be submitted to the resident property taxpaying voters of the County the question as to whether or not a tax shall be levied upon the property of said County subject to taxation, for the purpose of paying the interest on said bonds and to provide a sinking fund for the redemption thereof at maturity.

Wants to Market Bonds.
W. A. Myrick, representative of a Dallas bond house, was in Vernon yesterday conferring with commissioners on the proposition of marketing the local bonds in the event they are voted. He is of the opinion that these could be sold between this time and the first of the year. His company successfully floated bonds for Wichita, Tarrant, and Johnson counties.

"This is a good county," Mr. Myrick said yesterday, "and it needs good roads. The project is to be voted upon here is not an unusual one by any means, and similar propositions are being carried out all over Texas. Palo Pinto, for instance, has voted a one million dollar proposition, and Clay county has a large one under consideration."

"Many of those over the State are considerably larger than the one proposed by Wilbarger as far as that is concerned."

Frost Favors Issue
T. C. Frost, who lives at Farmers Valley, is another resident tax payer who is desirous of seeing the bond issue carry. The highway does not come within seven miles of the property belonging to Mr. Frost, but he believes the expenditure of funds worth while in the light of the benefit it will prove to the county.

"I favor beginning near town," said Mr. Frost Monday, "because that is the logical place to start. Travel con-

FINAL RITES OVER ROBINSON WITNESSED BY THROGS OF FRIENDS

More than 2,000 persons attended the funeral Sunday of Albert E. Robinson, Vernon's war hero, at the services conducted at the Baptist tabernacle and Eastview cemetery. The large church and shelter was filled to overflowing, and many of those in attendance stood on the outside.

Rev. E. L. Moore presided the funeral sermon, and paid touching tributes to the lad who went to great lengths to serve his country. Mr. Moore likened young Robinson to the heroes of '76 who shed their blood at Lexington to defend their country's sacred honor.

Wire From Baker
The following telegram was received Sunday by the local post of the American Legion from Harry A. Baker, captain of the Vernon company. It read as follows:

"Am deeply affected by your telegram of ninth. Albert E. Robinson was my closest friend. To him is due the credit for raising Company E. No nobler man or better soldier ever served his country. I join in your sorrow."

Robinson, father of the dead soldier, with a few words of presentation.

Mr. Moore then gave a short talk, and Post Chaplain Gus Gamage delivered the regulation farewell of a military funeral and followed this with a prayer. Three volleys were then fired over the grave by the ex-soldiers.

His trips also included Breckenridge, Cisco, Graham, and Sweetwater. It is Mr. Walsh's opinion that there is more business and more money in Vernon than in any of the towns he visited.

TEACHERS VOTE TO RETURN TO WICHITA

EASY ACCESSIBILITY OF TOWN MAKES IT CHOICE FOR NEXT INSTITUTE.

Teacher attending the institute conducted last week at Wichita Falls voted to return to that city next year for a similar session. It was deemed that the city faith built offered easier access to the four counties represented than did any other community which bid for the convention.

Representatives from Vernon made every effort to bring the institute to this place next year. A telegram from the local Chamber of Commerce was read to those present, but the consensus of opinion was too strongly in favor of Wichita Falls.

Vernon Teachers Speak

Dr. H. W. Nutt of Chicago University was the principal speaker on the program. Vernon teachers were also represented in the addresses of the occasion.

T. J. Youngblood, Harry Coley, and B. Daniels went on a fishing excursion last week to Miller Creek, fifteen miles south of Seymour. The party remained three days and nights. Luck was about the average. Mr. Youngblood caught about a ten pound catfish on his hook, but as he lifting it from the water the line broke and the prize got away.

VERNON MARKET AVERAGES WITH OTHERS IN STATE

Report From Star-Telegram Disproves Oft-Heard Criticism That Local Prices Are Too Low—Crop Opens Rapidly and Pickers Are Plentiful—Many Hauling To Town.

That Vernon's cotton market is on a par with those of the other sections of Texas is evidenced from a glance at the reports which are in the columns of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. These prove conclusively the criticism offered frequently by many growers of this vicinity that Vernon prices do not compare favorably with those found elsewhere is unfounded.

Following is a report taken from the Star-Telegram of September 11, showing the relative prices paid over the state.

Today, Norman Kerry and Zena Keefe in "Proxies"

Wednesday, Eva Novak in "Wolves of the North"

Aurora Thresh lives with her father who is a student of Eskimo history, on the edge of civilization in the depths of Alaska. Two men love her, one is David, father's ward, and the other is Wild Jack, a sturdy specimen of northern manhood. When the latter allows his unmonth qualities to get the better of him on one occasion the girl announces her engagement to David. He however, proves untrue to her and she turns back to Wild Jack, realizing that he is of the sterling, albeit rugged character.

Thursday, Bert Lytell in "A Message from Mars"

This fantastic story concerns Horace Parker, who is so wrapped up in himself that he imagines he would revolve around him and he is a minor god. A series of lessons at the hands of a messenger from Mars, who is sent to haunt the most selfish man on Earth, perfects a regeneration in him and he rewins the love of the girl he has lost through his bigotry.

At The Pictorium

Today, James Oliver Curwood's "Kazon," featuring Jane Novak and the dog, Kazon.

"Kazon," like most of this writer's stories, deals with the far north, and also with the almost human dog from which the tale derives its name. The animal is left without a master, having belonged to a member of the Northwest Mounted Police who is killed. A girl is the first and only person, after the death of his owner, to show him kindness, and although he runs away and joins a wolf pack he answers her cry for help three different times when she is in great danger.

Wednesday, Elaine Hammerstein in "The Girl from Nowhere."

She makes a mistake in her judgment of a man and becomes implicated in appearance only in a notorious jewel robbery. She escapes and seeks shelter in a hunting lodge. When she is about to be evicted by the caretaker, she tells him she is the wife of the owner, who happens to appear at that moment. Seeing the predicament of the girl he corroborates her statement and proceeds immediately to fall in love with her.

FOOTBALL PLAYERS START PRACTICEHIGH SCHOOL CANDIDATES HAVE BEEN WORKING OUT FOR PAST WEEK

Vernon high school football candidates are hard at work under their new coach, J. A. Morrow, preparing for the coming season's schedule. The players have been working out the past week, and Saturday were taken under the wing of the new mentor who previous to that time had been attending the teacher's institute at Wichita Falls.

Preliminary practice will consist for the most part of passing and kicking. Mr. Morrow said, "The fundamentals of the game will be gone over thoroughly and the coach will keep an eye open for the most likely material. There is a possibility that scrimmaging will be engaged in by the end of the week. Plans of the boys for a camp last week went astray when it was learned that a sufficient number could not attend."

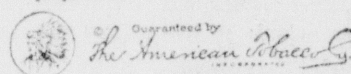

In Panhandle District

According to Mr. Morrow, Vernon had been put in the Panhandle district this year, and will have to play at least the first five games with towns west of here. No definite schedule has been arranged yet. It is likely that some of the games will be with Amarillo, Clarendon, Childress, Quanah. All of these towns were

EVERY CHILD SHOULD DRINK MILK THREE TIMES DAILY

How Lime and Vitamines in Milk Promote Growth and Bone Development in Children as Well as in Rats—Milk for Growing Children Rather Than Tea or Coffee.

"What a lot of milk you use!" exclaimed Mrs. Olds, watching the milk man place 4 quart bottles and a pint on her neighbor's porch step. "What on earth do you do with it all?"

Mrs. Newsom looked somewhat astonished. "Why," she replied, "we drink most of it, of course. A pint and a half a day or a glass each meal for each of the three children, the pint for grandmother, a glass or more each for Mr. Newsom and myself and the rest for breakfast cereals, coffee and cooking. In fact, I often have to buy an extra bottle if I want to make a pudding. Tom, especially since he has been on the high-school athletic team, very often uses a glass or two more than I allow for him."

Some Children Do Not Like Milk.

"Goodness, my children wouldn't drink milk if I paid them. We only take 2 quarts a day, and hardly ever use all of that. My family's larger than yours, too," Mrs. Olds reflected. "Seven of the children at home, now that Maude is married. I often wish I could get Florence and Ida to take milk and eggs better. They're both thin and nervous and seem to get tired out so easily. But even Billy wants his coffee for breakfast and tea for dinner."

"You don't mean to say you give 4 year-old Billy tea and coffee?"

An illumination of many points about her neighbor's family came suddenly to Mrs. Newsom. She had always supposed the Olds children were delicate and obviously undernourished, because there were so many of them to bring up on a small salary. Apparently, however, there had been a very grave blunder in the diet of the whole family, one which could have been avoided even with their limited income, because milk is one of the cheapest sources of nourishment obtainable.

"I wish you might have been with me yesterday," remarked Mrs. Newsom. "I heard a talk about an exhibit prepared by some milk specialists in the Dairy Division of the United States Department of Agriculture. In fact, I brought home a picture which illustrated the lecture. I think it would interest you." She stepped inside the house for a moment, and then invited her neighbor to sit down while she explained.

"The exhibit was of some white rats, and showed the practical results of research work done by nutrition scientists. The lecturer explained that the condition of the rats illustrated the good effect of adding milk to an inadequate diet. The rats having milk, you see, grew large and muscular, with strong bones, bright eyes, and glossy hair. Those that did not have milk added to their diet had weak bones, because they lacked minerals, especially lime, which is so abundant in milk, and also milk proteins, which are unexcelled for making firm strong muscles. They also lacked vitamins, the important food accessories so essential to growth and health. Poor little things, they did not gain, but actually lost, while their comrades in the next cage thrived, and in six weeks had more than doubled their weight at the beginning of the demonstration.

"The lecturer explained that the exhibit was not an experiment, because the facts had already been proved by experimental evidence. It was merely a practical illustration.

"Of course," went on Mrs. Newsom, "we know perfectly well that a baby will double its weight in six months on milk alone, and really we should not be surprised that those half grown rats have done the same when they had all the milk they wished.

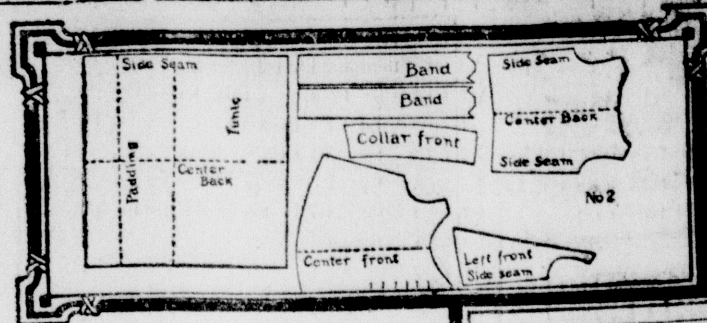

"The lecturer showed us the stuffed rats, which were absolutely lifelike and the mounted skeletons. The milk-fed rats had firm, well-formed bones, because they got plenty of lime, whereas the poor little undernourished ones had such frail skeletons that some of them had to be exhibited in bottles instead of being mounted.

Lack of Milk Causes Weak Bones.
Mrs. Olds looked very thoughtful. "I wonder," she said finally, "whether the small amount of milk the children have had would partly account for the easily broken bones in our family. Three of the children have had fractured arms or legs—and Ida's back seems so weak."

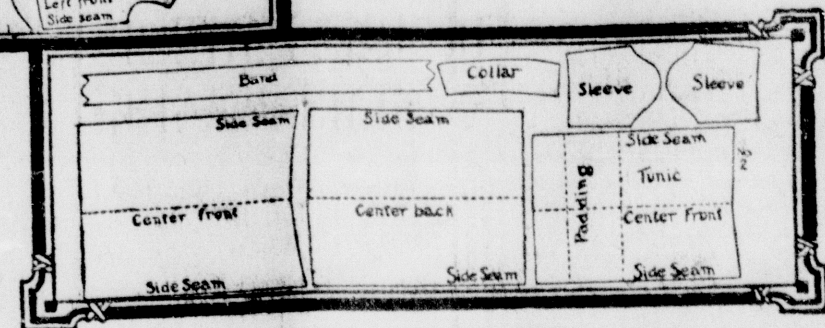

"It seems probable, though one can't say positively, of course, Mrs. Olds. The lecturer yesterday confirmed my belief that milk is better for the child's nervous system than tea and coffee, which, as you know, are not foods at all, and which contain elements that affect the nerves. It's a problem to break a foot habit after a child once forms it. I know; that is why I have always avoided starting the tea and coffee habit."

"I believe," said Mrs. Olds, "that the two youngest children might listen to me if I could tell them the story of the rats—and perhaps show them the picture."

"I'll be so glad to lend it to you," smiled Mrs. Newsom.

Any Girl Can Make This Dainty Summer Dress That Marion Davies Designed and Describes for Less Than $10

By MARION DAVIES
Film Star of "The Restless Sex," "Buried Treasure," etc.

This cool and dainty organdy dress was the first one I made for summer wear. It is every bit as easy to make as it looks and can be done in any color wished and in any kind of materials. I chose organdy because it is such a summery fabric and it seems to fit this style of dress. What I like about it is that it is as good for morning as for afternoon, for country or city, for home or office.

I chose a light yellow, trimming it with green hemstitching at the borders of the sleeves and overskirt. This sash of mine, with a smart bow at the back, is also green and the ribbon down the left side is of black lacquered. It is sure to be just as pretty in white, pink or blue.

Its touch of novelty and originality lies in the quilted effect produced when I gathered in the collar, blouse, sleeves and bottom of skirt.

Six yards of 40-inch material is ample if the pattern, enlarged sixteen times, is laid on the goods as in the diagram above. Outside of the hemstitching, which I didn't do all in one sitting, I planned and made this dress in two days.

If you have any difficulties in the making of this dress address me at Cosmopolitan Productions, 127th Street, New York City.

A HERO'S REWARD.

Perhaps the highest reward any
man can have is the knowledge of duty
nobly performed. If that be true,
surely then, Albert E. Robinson's re-
ward could not be higher.

Killed by an enemy bullet just as
his men had reached their objective
during the last terrible days of the Great War; falling face-forward with
his objective gained—surely no more
glorious consummation of life could be
imagined!

All too short were his years on this
earth. Yet the hundreds who stood Sunday afternoon with bare heads before his bier is testimony that which
none can be more eloquent of how
truly this young man continues to live
in the hearts of the men and women
of Vernon.

The story of his bravery, of his determination to serve his country will
be an inspiration to our children, and
our children's children. Truly Albert
E. Robinson's name is inscribed on the
scanty roll of the immortals.

The Fort Worth City Commission is
asking local ice manufacturers why the price of ice should be higher in Fort Worth than in many other Texas
cities. Some people in Vernon are
wondering about the same thing.

"How nice it would be," observes
the Fort Worth Star Telegram, "if we
could build a battleship fast enough
that it would not be obsolete before
it is finished."

WHAT COTTON PRICES MEAN.

The value of cotton on hand, the
new crop and seed of the new crop
has been increased by at least $750,000,
000 during the past thirty days, and
nearly half the money will come from
outside the United States, says the
Fort Worth Star-Telegram. Citing
the case of an individual farmer, the
Star-Telegram continues:

A month ago he figured he would
be lucky if he received $1,000 net for
his cotton and seed. He owes his
Bank $800, of which $300 has been carried since last year. He owes about $300 to merchants and has other obligations about due amounting to $300
or more. If he paid all these debts
out of $1,000 he would have $200 left
to face the winter on. And he was
not certain that he would receive
$1,600 judging from the market a
month ago. Now he practically certain to receive at least $3,000 for his
cotton and seed. He will be able to pay his debts and meet all his obligations, and have a balance left that
will at least not force him to go into
debt immediately again.

This may not be a typical case, but
if it is not it is because this farmer
owes a smaller proportion of his prospective income from his crop than
many others do. If the price of cotton
had not gone up there would have been
many of them who would have been
still hopelessly indebted after having

sold their cotton. A large number of
these now are going to pay their debts
or a good portion of them.

Now see what that means: It
means, first of all, that a great deal
of frozen credit in the banks will be
thawed out. The little country bank
will be able to meet its obligations
with the city bank and with the Federal Reserve Bank, and as a result
there will be much easier money available in the district. That will effect
everything. It means also that the
farmer will pay the merchant and the
merchant will be in better shape to
meet his own obligations and to buy
more goods. The farmer will feel
more in the mood to buy the things he
needs. Even where he has not much
ready cash, he will have better credit.
This again will affect everybody.

That is why the rise in the price of
cotton means better times all around.
It even means a better demand for the
agricultural products, for wheat and
cattle and hogs and corn and sorghum
grains. Ultimately it will mean more
employment, and that will tend to increase the purchasing power of the
public and thus means more business.

The Advice Of This Vernon Woman

Many a woman's back has many
aches and pains.

Often times 'tis the kidney's fault.
That's why Doan's Kidney Pills are
so effective.

Many Vernon women know this.
Read what one has to say about it:

Mrs. C. H. Dalmasso, 209 Lexing-

greatly from kidney trouble and rheu-
matic pains. My back just throbbled
and ached all the time and was so
lame and sore mornings when I first
got up that I could hardly straighten.
The muscles in my back and hips were
lame and stiff. My kidneys acted ir-
regularly and bothered me a great
deal. I was advised to try Doan's
Kidney Pills and bought a supply from

Galli-Curci Joins National Movement for Women Fostered By Fair Sex at Washington

MME. AMELITA GALLI-CURCI MRS. FREDERICK CHAPIN

PHOTOS BY UNDERWOOD & UNDERWOOD

While the Woman's National Foundation aims primarily at the
correlation of all feminine activities
throughout America with a view to
promoting civic education, the arts
have not been neglected in its comprehensive program. Special committees under the direction of Washington women whose tastes and
training particularly fit them for the
task, have been appointed to care
for each branch. Mrs. Frederick Chapin is vice-chairman of the Committee, whose special duty is to foster
love of music.

In order that there might be with-
in the Foundation a group of members representing the highest standards in each profession, leading American artists have already been invited to join. Among the first to accept this invitation was Amelita
Galli-Curci, the great operatic so-
prano, who immediately sent her
check for a three-year term.

As a beautiful indoor theatre is
included in the plans for the new
home which the Foundation is shortly to erect in Washington, members
will have the advantage of seeing
plays and operas produced under expert direction right in their club-
house. There will also be an outdoor theatre in a sylvan dell on the Foundation grounds, where pageants
will be staged from time to time.
As Mrs. Marie Moore Forrest, the
well-known pageant writer, is a Founder-Donor of the Foundation,
while Mrs. C. C. Calhoun, President,
has already had many plays produced
in Washington theatres, the Founda-
tion's program both in the dramatic
and musical fields shows every possibility of being highly successful.

Those interested in becoming members of the Foundation should communicate with the Woman's National Foundation, Connecticut Avenue, N.
W., Washington, D. C.

An important suit in the district court is scheduled to be heard tomorrow is that of Millers Fire Underwriters vs. the Fort Worth and Denver Railroad for $30,000. The underwriters are asking reimbursement for fire loss sustained in March, 1920 at Chillicothe when a gin burned. It is alleged by the insurance company that the town fire department was unable to reach the conflagration because of the refusal of a freight train crew to permit them to cross the railroad tracks which were blocked.

A Woman's Way.

"I tried for months to get my wife to try May's Wonderful Remedy, which I know had helped a friend of mine who also suffered from stomach trouble. She insisted her case was different. I finally had to bribe her with a new dress. The first dose produced remarkable results, clearing up her complexion and restoring appetite. She can now eat things she hadn't been able to eat for many years." It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money returned.

HEIRESS AND SCHOOL BOY ELOPE.

Friends of Mrs. Bertha Samuels Sinclair are wondering whether she will win the forgiveness of her father, or whether Colonel Joseph Samuels will keep his threat to disinherit her. The millionaire made this threat when the bride indicated her intention of being married to James Sinclair, former Brown University athlete. The couple eloped a few days ago, being married at Mystic, Conn. It was late in the night when they reached Mystic. It was raining, and the engine in their motor had stalled. The circumstances were not at all romantic, though the heiress found a touch of romance in the fact that if her father held to his word she would have to be content with Sinclair's salary in lieu of her large allowance.

RED RACING CAR NO MATCH FOR SHERIFF'S FORD

Oscar Meyers, driving a red racing car, was taken Sunday by Sheriff W. A. Ish at Quanah. Mr. Ish had been notified from Trenton Saturday that a man answering Meyers' description had taken a red racing car from that place.

While conversing with a friend in Chillicothe Sunday, Mr. Ish saw the car pass and immediately pursued it. He overtook it and after reaching Quanah waited for his man. Meyers claimed he had bought the car but was put in jail at Quanah pending word from Trenton authorities.

WHEELS OF JUSTICE STOP FOR A MOMENT WHILE JUDGE HEARKENS BACK TO OLDEN DAYS

Managing a district court, calling the docket, quashing motions, and allowing recesses are only a few of the duties coming under the scope of a presiding judge, but J. A. Nabors, who enthroned in Wilbarger's court house today finds not merely time for the pursuance of these arduous duties, but can occasionally cock his foot up on the desk and reminisce a trifle. His audience is composed of attorneys for and against, court officials of one description or another, and the usual category of hangers-on.

Judge Nabors earlier in life followed the art of a surveyor, and in this capacity traveled over a great extent of surrounding territory, and encountered many experiences.

"When there wasn't much doing," says the magistrate speculatively, "we used to camp out on the banks of a creek and just take life easy. We would have little jobs that would take our time for awhile, and then we could fish or hunt as we pleased."

"I had a system of fishing that simply beat them all, and it required no hooks or line. You see, I used to wear a large, baggy sort of shirt and in those days, to launder our clothes, we used to wade out into the water and splash around a bit. This shirt would fill up like a huge balloon as I squatted in the water, and the fish would swim up under it and I would suddenly gather up the folds of the shirt, walk to the bank, and spill a mess of fish out on the grass. It used to make the eyes of the old-timers who fished with hook and line stick out with envy."

Lost On Prairie

"In those days everyone's house be-

longed to everyone else. If you came upon a shelter anywhere you were privileged to enter and make yourself at home. One night a friend of mine and I got lost and finally stumbled upon a dugout on the prairie. A patting norther came up and we were chilled to the bone.

"My friend wouldn't go in, for some reason or another, but tried to keep warm against the wall of the dugout with a saddle blanket for a covering. I went in, however, and cooked myself a good supper and went to bed. It was about three or four in the morning when I was awakened by singing, and arose to discover to whom the vocal efforts were due.

"I found that the owner of the dugout was returning home with a number of wild turkeys he had shot while hunting, and, seeing smoke issuing from his chimney, had begun singing as a means of striking up an acquaintanceship with the inmates of the house. We went out and brought in my friend who was stiff with cold, and cooked up in a fine mess of turkey for breakfast.

"You all remember Joe Schmidt who used to run the hotel in Vernon. Joe and I had a little trouble once over an agreement we had made. I paid him $25 a month for board and room, and was allowed credit of a dollar a day for each day I was absent.

"One month I was gone thirty-one days, and so when I came back I claimed he owed me $3 and three meals and he wouldn't pay it.

"What's that? Ready in this case? All right, come to order please, gentlemen."

Building Good Will Through

Advertising

Constant Advertising Adds To Your Business
That Intangible Though Substantial
Asset of GOOD WILL

A very wise man said a good many years ago, "A good name is more to be desired than great riches." He spoke the truth—and we may well add that in these days when public confidence is so large an element in business that a good name is often a means toward acquiring great riches—legitimately, honestly, with profit for those with whom you do business as well as for yourself.

Your advertising alone will not build a good name and good will for you—but if you have the goods and the methods which back up your advertising, and bring satisfaction instead of disappointment to those who respond to your advertising, the good will of the public will certainly become yours.

Men who advertise extensively certain articles, patent the names of these articles, because they become nationally known, and, associated with the merits of the articles, they are of great value—made so by advertising backed up by satisfaction. Thus the advertising that has been done by these people becomes a real, permanent asset to their business—an asset which is often worth many thousands of dollars in the sale of a business.

If you run a dry goods store, for instance, you can by intelligent advertising and satisfactory merchandise and pleasing methods, so associate your name in the public mind with good dry goods, reasonable prices and pleasing methods that this reputation becomes an asset—a good will—which will bring you trade under conditions when stores which do not have this standing in the public favor will be without business. The same is true of any other line of business.

The Record Will Be Glad to Talk With You and

GOOD WILL

At the warehouse too, cotton is coming in more rapidly. Thus far 265 bales have been stored there, and the amount coming in increases each day.

The Seven Largest Countries

"When China is moved it will change the face of the globe," Napoleon said that at St. Helena about a hundred years ago. China is a land of possibilities, undeveloped, but unbounded. She is a land of mighty reserve power, but this power, like that of her physical resources, her enormous supply of mineral resources has remained dormant. She is a sleeping but not a dead giant.

Russia is the largest country in the world, having an area of 8,447,113 square miles, but has a population of only 174,009,600. China next in size having an area of 3,913,560 square miles, with a population of 360,650,000. Brazil comes next with an area of 3,218,991 square miles, and a population of 17,318,586. Then come Canada, with an area of 3,603,919 square miles and a population of 7,206,643. Then the United States falls in line with an area of 3,026,789 square miles and a population of 105,683,108. The Australia with an area of 2,974,581 square miles and a population of 4,445,000. Then comes British India with an area of 1,802,629 square miles and a population of 315,156,396.

These are the seven largest countries in the world, named in order of their territory, but China has the greatest population of any country in the world, and British India is next in size, but each of them is more than twice the size of any country in the world except Russia. China has 360,650,000 population, and India has 315,156,396 population.

DEPUTY GAME WARDEN HERE

James D. Breedlove Points Out Some Little Recognized Facts About Hunting.

"A great many people are of the opinion that they can hunt in the country in which they reside and also in adjacent counties. This is a mistake," says James D. Breedlove, deputy state game warden, who was in Vernon today.

Mr. Breedlove calls attention to the fact that any person may hunt in the county or residence, but a license must be taken out to hunt anywhere except in one's home county. This license costs $2, and entitles the holder to hunt anywhere in Texas.

"There is a good crop of birds, quite a few plover, and some ducks coming into North Texas," Mr. Breedlove told a reporter. The season for ducks and plover opens October 16 and closes January 31. The dove season opened September 1 and runs to December 15.

The open season on turkeys has been changed from March and April to November and December in a number of counties in South-west Texas. In North Texas it is still March and April. A closed season of five years was passed by the 35th Legislature on turkeys in Kleburg, Starr, Jim Hogg, Cameron, Kenedy, Willacy, Hidalgo, and McMullen counties. It is unlawful to kill turkey hens at any time.

Remembrance In Business

It does a man's heart good to discover that this is a far better and kinder business world than he had thought it could be. He fairly radiates warm gratitude and good will.

Friendliness is a priceless quality in Business, a constant urge which makes sales more quickly and more surely than any amount of dry logic or argument; it cannot be neglected; it is too valuable; it must be intelligently fostered.

Just the reason our business has grown from year to year our friends remember.
